We do not guarantee that an opt-out request will prevent all or any future uses or disclosures of your online personal information by a data broker website, or that we will identify all instances of your online personal information that is eligible for opt-out, or that the data broker websites will not retain copies of your online personal information. Some of the data broker websites may have multiple databases and may acquire and aggregate personal information about individuals on an ongoing basis. The opt-out request we submit on your behalf may not be effective for all sources of online personal information maintained by the data broker websites, or for online personal information acquired by the data broker websites after the opt-out request. In addition, we may not locate all entries or the correct entries of your online personal information that are eligible for opt-out. Not all data broker websites offer the same type of opt-out options. Further, in some instances, even if we are able to effectively submit an opt-out request on your behalf to a data broker website, that data broker website may still maintain your online personal information in its records and may fail to honor or properly respond to an opt-out request. You understand and agree that Company is not responsible for the actions or inactions of any of these data broker sites, and that Company makes no representations, warranties or guarantees related to such data broker sites. - a. The Services may provide links to various other independent third-party websites ("Linked Sites") that may be of interest to you and are for your convenience only. Array does not control and/or endorse such Linked Sites and is not responsible for their content nor is it responsible for the accuracy and/or reliability of any information, data, opinions, advice or statements contained within such Linked Sites. Your consent to receive records and notices electronically will remain in effect until you withdraw it. You may withdraw your consent to receive further records and notices electronically at any time by contacting us. If you withdraw your consent to receive such records and notices electronically, we will revoke your access to the Services. Any withdrawal of your consent to receive records and notices electronically will be effective only after we have a reasonable period of time to process your request for withdrawal.

20. DISPUTE RESOLUTION

- a. This Agreement shall be governed and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York, without resort to the conflict of law principles thereof. Except as it relates to Array's efforts to collect unpaid Fees, any controversy, claim or dispute between the parties arising out of or relating to this Terms of Service or the breach, termination, enforcement, interpretation, conscionability or validity thereof, including any determination of the scope or applicability of this agreement to arbitrate, such controversy, claim or dispute shall be resolved by mandatory, binding arbitration, rather than in court. The parties agree that the arbitration shall be administered by the American Arbitration Association (AAA), or other nationally recognized arbitrator as agreed upon by the parties and the parties shall be bound by any and all rules of AAA or other mutually accepted rules and any award/decision rendered. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the AAA rules, the arbitrator will be empowered to order interim or permanent injunctive relief, which may be enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction. Any decision or award as a result of any such arbitration proceeding shall be in writing and shall provide an explanation for all decisions. Any such arbitration shall include a written record of the arbitration hearing and shall be conducted by an arbitrator as agreed upon by the parties, or if no agreement can be made, then an arbitrator shall be selected by AAA experienced in complex business transactions. The award rendered by the arbitrator shall be final and shall not be subject to vacation or modification. Judgment on the award made by the arbitrator may be entered in any court having jurisdiction over the parties. If either party fails to comply with the arbitrator's award, the injured party may petition the circuit court for enforcement. The parties agree that either party may bring claims against the other only in his/her or its individual capacity and not as a plaintiff or class member in any purported class or representative proceeding. Further, the parties agree that the arbitrator may not consolidate proceedings of more than one person's claims and may not otherwise preside over any form of representative or class proceeding. The parties shall share the cost (not any attorneys' fees) of arbitration equally. In the event a party fails to proceed with arbitration as required herein, unsuccessfully challenges the arbitrator's award, or fails to comply with the arbitrator's award, the other party is entitled to costs of suit, including a reasonable attorney's fee for having to compel arbitration or defend or enforce the award. Binding Arbitration means that both parties give up the right to a trial by a jury or to use the court system except to enforce this section. It also means that both parties give up the right to appeal from the arbitrator's ruling except for a narrow range of issues that can or may be appealed. It also means that discovery may be severely limited by the arbitrator. This section and the arbitration requirement shall survive any termination.
